

THE SEED OF THE UNIVERSE

By Herman (Dusty) Rhodes

Chapter One

“The Beginning”

I suppose that during their lives, just about everyone has wondered about the beginning of the universe at one time or another. The same with me, but my wondering has not reached an end yet. What I am writing about is my understanding of both the Bible and scientific discoveries of the creation. This is my understanding of how the universe was created from the laws of God from his complete understanding of everything. Some people have a concept of what God is, and some discard him altogether. I go by what the Bible teaches because I realize that the Bible is the true Word of God.

The Bible is composed of 66 books. They were all written at different times in different areas of the civilized world by 40 different people. It was written over a period of about 1500 years. The Bible is really called Biblia or "little books". The books were not combined into the one book called the Bible until after Jesus lived. Before that, the books or scrolls were read separately.

1. ... 1400 BC,... The first writings were the 10 Commandments by Moses
2. ... 500 BC,... The 39 books of the Old Testament were written.
3. ... 200 BC,... The Septuagint Greek manuscripts were written.
4. ... 1AD... The New Testament was written.
5. ... 315 AD,... The Canon was chosen books of the Bible (chosen by a committee). The chosen books are what we read in the Bible today.
6. ... 500 AD,... Was translated in all different languages.

The bible, or the scriptures?... The scriptures were around for over 1,000 years before the bible was put together. And the authors ranged from farmers, kings, merchants, etc. All these writers were inspired by God to write what they wrote. The hard evidence of this is the story of creation in the Biblical Hebrew and Greek text. This story was written thousands of years ago when all that anyone could see was the sun and the moon and the night sky. Yet, they gave a detailed description of how the universe formed step by step. Their description fits with what we see with our space telescopes in our own generation. Now I'm talking about the Biblical Hebrew and Greek text and not a translation. These stories are word by word sentence after sentence, not a word taken here and another word from there. Their stories are also in perfect order. This shows that God was the source of their information because God was the only one who knew what happened that long ago.

In the Hebrew language, the actual number of root words is usually taken to be 2500. By way of contrast, the Merriam Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, unabridged lists over 450,000 words and the Oxford English Dictionary 1989 (2nd edition) lists over 615,000 words. Therefore, the Biblical Hebrew vocabulary was much smaller than most modern languages. It stands to reason that most Hebrew words had several meanings, which were to be interpreted based on the surrounding context. Also, it was not possible in Biblical Hebrew to express many of the nuances (differences) we find in modern languages.

2 Timothy 3: 16...All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction and righteousness:

The illustration above and the text below, are some of the Characteristics of God that I got from Bible study. Learning to know God is an education that you will not get only by reading the Bible.

God is Truth.

Since 1987 I have been heavy into the research of the creation for this book. After 30 years of Bible study, the current events in science and my own logic, I decided that God = all Truth. The Bible also says that out of God comes the Truth.

Deuteronomy 32:4 ... He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he.

To my understanding, these natural laws of nature, chemistry, math, physics, geometry, etc., are Truth. Science has discovered that we can prove each law by using math. Without the laws of physics, there would be no science. The electrical laws are a part of physics and being a marine electrician troubleshooter throughout my working career, I have used those laws time after time to find the proper resistance of a resistor or the proper amperage in a circuit. They worked every time I have ever used them. My logic says that if you can prove something true, then it is a part of the Truth that makes up the spirit of God. Yes, I used the word spirit because these laws do not contain any solid matter, but they are real and have been proved. Anything that is real but does not contain any solid matter is what we call spiritual. So, as you read and hear the word God used, think of all the laws that govern the universe and life as being a part of him. It also means that the laws are eternal and that they existed long before solid matter was created. Whatever you do, keep the laws of physics in the forefront of your mind. Science has no explanation for them. Remember that they are a part of God. My logic says that they had to come before solid matter, because they govern solid matter. Again, they are a part of God. If you have to do so, write this down.

If you could go back in time a couple of hundred years and be able to talk with someone about the future, you could tell him that in the year 2018, we would have a light on our table that would burn for as long as we left the switch on. Microscopic elements that we could not see because they are so small, billions of them would power the light. These elements, called electrons, come from across town from a generator that produces them. From the generator, the particles travel through wires across the city, through your light in a nice steady flow to give off a beautiful, calm, and steady light, then back across town and through the generator, then back to your lamp again. All of this would happen 60 times each second.

I'm pretty sure that the person would not believe you. He might even spread the word that you are a witch. He might even say that they should burn you in the town square for telling him such a lie.

The Seed

There are seven seeds of humankind. During my first attempt to read the complete Bible, I noticed that the people of the Biblical time frame talked about the seed as though it was common knowledge. During my lifetime, I have never heard a preacher preach on the seed. It is sort of like lost knowledge. I found in my study that the 5th chapter of Genesis tells about the seed of humankind when it explains about the seed of Adam. Adam's seed went through his children down through each generation. If you take the time to add up the age of each child, and you do it right, the total will be 930 years, the age of Adam. On over in the scriptures, there were eight mentioned on the ark of Noah, and Noah's seed went through one of his sons, Shem. That was the same as one seed, so that leaves seven seeds of humankind on the ark of Noah. Could these seeds have all ended up in the mysterious blood of Jesus Christ to be a sacrifice for all humanity? That would be my blood, your blood, his blood, and her blood, etc. that was spilled on the cross for our sins through the veins of Jesus as our sacrifice.

God is also Love.

1John 4:8, ... He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is Love. (KJV)

Because of Love, God created the universe and life for himself. He wanted to share his creation with his own, in a perfect place in perfect harmony for eternity. God wants his own to follow him because they loved his positive way and loved him by free choice, not because they were programmed to love him. He created humankind with an open opportunity to choose whatever they desired as their way to live. The ones who picked his way of life would be called the children of God. The ones who chose the ways of the world, (wine, wild women, and song), would be called the children of the world. The ones that followed him through whatever life throws at them will inherit eternal life in heaven with God and his son Jesus Christ, who became our sacrifice for our sins that are against God, and also, our savior from Sin, Satan, and eternal hell. The ones that followed and loved sin, and the ways of the world (wine, wild women, and song) will not enter into eternal heaven. They will be casts into a lake of fire that would burn forever with no possibility of escape. When you hear the word God, think of all the laws that govern the universe along with Love and you will have a good idea of what God is.

The Positive way

Psalms 18:30 ... As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. (KJV)

David wrote it in the book of Psalms, then Samuel wrote the exact same words in the book of Samuel. It must be really important to write it twice. (Buckler= A small round shield, either carried or worn on the arm.) The Way of God is a shield to carry with you, any place at any time. It consists of doing things right the first time. In this book, I call it the Positive Way.

2Samuel 22:31 ... As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him.

There is a right way and a wrong way to do everything. If you go about any job in the wrong way, it will become a nightmare and you will end up doing it over and over till you get it right. If you know how to go about doing it right the first time, things will fall into place and your work will be a pleasure instead of a nightmare. Your whole life will be completely different just by taking the time to learn your trade first before you butcher a lot of good materials and your own sanity. The positive way also includes how you treat the people around you. The Bible says that when you please God, even your enemies will be at peace with you. So that means that a good Christian will experience a life of peace and contentment unless he is being put through a test. Sometimes "tough times" and humility will fall on a Christian just to make sure of what he will do under stress and poverty. The Bible says to be happy when those tests come because it shows that you are worthy to be tested. The Bible tells about how a silversmith melts down the silver and pours off the scum. He does this over and over, till the silver becomes pure. That is also what the life of a Christian is like on the earth. Over and over we are tested throughout our lives till finally we become pure when we are on our death bed. Then we can give up the ghost and go into a peaceful sleep till the resurrection. When the children of the world die, they will go into torment until the resurrection. God will decide who will go on into heaven.

Born Again

The Bible teaches that you must become born again in order to get into heaven. Becoming born again, is learning to love the positive way of God and learning to despise the ways of the world around you. To learn more about tests and tribulations, read the book of Job and what he had to go through to prove himself for the man he was. When you hear the word God, think of a spiritual being that knows everything there is to know, that is full of love for his own, that does things perfect the first time and never makes mistakes. God's own, (The children of God) are the people who learn to love the ways of God, "The born Again". The people of the world are enemies of God. If you choose to become friends with the people of the world, you too will become an enemy of God.

James 4:4 KJV ... Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God?
whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

Watch the company you keep. God had rather all should live, but Hell will be a big place and the majority of all men that ever have populated the earth since the beginning, will end up there by their love for the ways of the world. So actually, they will be there by their own choice, because throughout their lives people have tried to tell them that they were living the wrong way, but they would not listen.

The Writing of the Bible

So how do we know the Bible is true? There's a number of people that grows with the population, that does not accept the Bible as Truth. The reason that I think they don't, is because they love the ways of the world and they despise the ways that we should live our lives according to what the Bible teaches. The Bible teaches to put yourself last when they want to put themselves first in everything. The Bible is filled with scriptures containing information that no one would have known except God during the time the Bible was written. What better proof could you ask for than divine knowledge of the creation of the universe and life, which was written 3500-2000 years ago. The men that wrote the Bible were created by God to write it. Their whole life was tied up in their book just like my life is tied up in mine. I can understand easily how they were created to write what they wrote. All they knew about the universe was the sun and the moon and the night sky. Yet they explained how the earth and the universe formed from the laws of God step by step. You can't find the true story of what they wrote in the King James translation, because over 400 years ago when the translation was written, the translators had no idea of what the writer was trying to tell them. I took the time to look up every word in the scriptures that I knew about, that told about the creation and all the definitions to each word. I went through each of the many definitions and found the ones that fits with what we see with the Hubble telescope, and each scripture came out step by step according to what we see in our generation. All the definitions are there, word after word. The major words can be connected word by word with what we see and many things that science has seen and proved to be there. The translators of King James did not have that information to use in their time. All of this is accomplished by using the conjunctions and prepositions that fit with what we see. I have just got a Bible program that gives the conjunctions and prepositions that they thought should be used in the original Hebrew and Greek text. They were added so that we could understand what the Bible was trying to tell us. That's because the men who added these words had no idea of what was in the universe.

In the time of the writing of the Bible, there were not even any vowels in the Hebrew language. There are also some Hebrew words that can't be translated in English. Most of the people from the time of the translation thought the earth was flat. They used the definitions that they thought were right and as close as they could get to their understanding. The Bible was written for every generation and every IQ. It does not take a well-educated man to understand the Bible. Some of our best preachers were farm boys and country boys with no real worldly education at all. If God sees that you are really interested in understanding the Bible, he will send you the Holy Ghost, which to my understanding is the understanding of the Bible, where it be the King James Translation (KJV) or the true Hebrew and Greek text.

In no way, don't think that I am knocking the King James translation. I don't know Hebrew or Greek and I would have a tough time learning it at my age. It would take forever to translate the entire Bible word by word. It would be nice if the kids of our time could learn Hebrew and Greek while they are young like the Jewish kids that are taught Hebrew as children. At that age they can learn a language in no time and they have a desire to learn because it makes them feel grown-up to be able to speak another language. By the time they got grown and learned to understand the scriptures in the original text, they could make a better translation and that would bring all the man-made Christian denominations into one mind and one understanding. Jesus wants us to become one minded with him as he is one minded with God. By doing so, we would have more armor against Satan, more food for our soul, a better understanding to teach others including our children and more comfort in our own understanding. If you decide to read the KJV from cover to cover, just keep in mind that it is just a translation and not the original Bible. Make sure that you realize that you can't take it word by word like you can the Hebrew or Greek text. I was a grown man before I realized that the KJV was just a translation and not the Bible.

The Strong's Concordance

Back in the mid-1800s, there was a man named Dr. James Strong, who took every major word in the King James translation and put it in his book, "The Strong's Concordance", with a number beside it as reference. In the back of the book, he put the Hebrew word that the English word in the KJV replaced, and, the many definitions that went with it, all recorded in English. You can find any major word throughout the Bible and find the Hebrew word that it replaced, and also, the definitions that go with it. He did not include the conjunctions because of the volume of the text. The King James translators added the conjunctions and prepositions to the definitions that they thought were the right definitions for the creation. The only thing wrong was, they used the wrong definitions. That made their translation hard to understand and the atheists used their translation story to try to wreck the Bible. The Biblical Hebrew does contain conjunctions and prepositions, but not in individual words. They used symbols as a prefix to the nouns and verbs to connect the major words of the true text.

I'm working on the understanding of the conjunctions now. I spent the whole day about a week ago looking for information on the conjunctions and prepositions to the Biblical Hebrew text. I finally found how they were written, and I am now searching for the Biblical Hebrew to see if the conjunctions will fit with the new definitions that I've found. If they do, I will be able to broadcast to the world the new Biblical concept of the creation that fits with what we see in our own generation. This information will be very important to our younger generation. This will show that what science has found in our generation was written word by word 3500 till 2000 years ago by the writers of the Bible. That shows that the writers of the Bible had to have been inspired by God. By looking up each major word and all their definitions, I made a personal interpretation using the concordance just to see how the word flow would go.

Article	הָאָרֶץ	ha'arets	the land
Conjunction	וְהָאָרֶץ	va'arets	and a land
Preposition	לָאָרֶץ	la'arets	to a land
Preposition	בְּאָרֶץ	be'erecs	in a land
Preposition	מֵאָרֶץ	me'erecs	from a land
Preposition	כְּאָרֶץ	ke'erecs	like a land

"THE TORAH A MECHANICAL TRANSLATION"

In the Hebrew language, the actual number of root words is usually taken to be 2500. By way of contrast, the Merriam Webster's Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, unabridged lists over 450,000 words and the Oxford English Dictionary 1989 (2nd edition) lists over 615,000 words. Therefore, the Biblical Hebrew vocabulary was much smaller than most modern languages. It stands to reason that most Hebrew words had several meanings, which were to be interpreted based on the surrounding context. Also, it was not possible in Biblical Hebrew to express many of the nuances we find in modern languages.

Sometimes I had to add words because the Hebrew and Greek text has less words than English words have. And the conjunctions and prepositions are not listed in the old Strong's Concordance. The conjunctions in the translation were added later by the translators of King James. They were also added from the imagination of the translators connecting the definitions that the translators THOUGHT was the True text of the Bible. The truth was, they did not recognize the true text when they saw it. They had no idea what was in the universe, so they used the definitions that they THOUGHT that was the right ones. When I got through looking up the definitions that fit with what we see, there was a story in the major words, major word by major word, that fit with what we see with our space telescopes. I will post a little of what I did, to show that the story is there using different definitions for each major word. The Yellow text shows the different definitions to the major words. The translators had no idea what these definitions meant so they paid no attention to them. Therefore, they missed the true story by not knowing what the author was trying to tell us.

By using the word “Understanding”, for another definition to replace the word “Light”, used in the KJV translation, there is an entirely new understanding of the first five verses in Genesis. This interpretation of Genesis 1:1-5 above, explains what the light was in the beginning. Instead of a light made from photons, it was a light of understanding like enlightenment. I also used other definitions for other Hebrew words, but the same Hebrew words. I had to use my own conjunctions because the conjunctions were not given in the Strong’s concordance. The Biblical Hebrew didn’t even contain vowels at that time. The conjunctions and prepositions in the KJV were added to make the text easier to understand, not realizing that they might be using the wrong definitions. This is Genesis 1:1-5. This is the same Hebrew words using different definitions to the same words. In my understanding, the translators had no idea of what definitions to use. All they knew about the creation was what they could see, the sun, moon, and the night sky. In the beginning of this book, I always wondered what the light was that they were writing about. It took a while to understand that they might be using the wrong definitions, but once I did, I understood that the right definition might be, “Put a light on the subject.” ... “Enlightenment”. Then by going through the rest of the text and looking over the definitions to each major word, I found different definitions that would fit with enlightenment. Then the first five verses made a lot more sense. It also fit with Proverbs 8:22.

Genesis 1:1... In the Beginning, God created the universe and solid elements.

Genesis 1:2 ... The Solid elements would evolve from micro to infinity in absolute emptiness which was both empty of solid matter as well as the laws of nature. It was emptiness as well as misery, darkness, destruction, death, ignorance, sorrow, and wickedness. God could hardly wait and it was hard to control his desire so close to the surging mass of elements that would evolve from an invisible structural foundation of God's fine tuned detailed design. God could hardly wait and it was hard to control his desire so close to the evolution of the planet and life forming nebula.

Genesis 1:3 ...God Required a deeper understanding by logical understanding.

Genesis 1:4...And God saw that understanding was good and God divided understanding from Ignorance.

Genesis 1: 5...God called upon understanding in the first period of chaos then pronounced and advertised that the dark ages had gone from the dusk to the dawn of the first period of time.

Proverbs 8:22, ... ¶ The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old. (KJV).

This says that the first thing that God brought forth in his creation was Understanding. By total understanding of his laws of nature, God understood how to go about creating the universe and life. Both Genesis 1:1-5 and Proverbs 8:22, are telling about the very beginning of solid matter. Proverbs 8:22, is telling about the very beginning of solid matter.

My understanding about the beginning of solid matter. When God established his infinite structure of his natural laws into the infinite emptiness, it was the largest reaction ever been. The laws of structure acted like a generator and the energy was released within the structure instead of becoming a direct short circuit. The result was the generating of the elementary particles throughout the universe and not from one location like the Big Bang theory tries to teach. The result was, the entire universe eventually was filled with elementary particles, wall to wall, ... everywhere. ...Being generated everywhere, the temperature would be uniform everywhere exactly like we see.

Proverbs 8:22 (My translation) ... God Created me in the beginning of his mode of action before his works of the beginning.

Proverbs 8:23 (My Translation) ... I was anointed for eternity and was first in order in the foremost evolution of solid elements.

Proverbs 8:24 (My Translation) ... Out of emptiness would evolve a massive sea of particles (Elementary Particles). Circular spiral eddy currents would produce smaller eddy currents from nothingness. This would produce a fountain of solid elements (Quasars).

Proverbs 8:22 KJV ... The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.

Proverbs 8:23 KJV ... I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.

Proverbs 8:24 KJV ... When there were no depths, I was brought forth; when there were no fountains abounding with water.

Proverbs 8:25 (My Translation) ... Not yet before had soil settled God could hardly wait; and it was hard to control his desire so close to the beginning. A cloud of solid elements would produce a rotating disk, that would produce a smaller rotating disk (protoplanetary nebula).

Proverbs 8:26 (My Translation) ... Throughout time, God's laws would govern the evolution of solid elements. His laws would determine their separation in the first part of his way to produce soil that would produce solid planets.

Proverbs 8:25 KJV ... Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth:

Proverbs 8:26 KJV ... While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world.

Proverbs 8:27, ... God prepared the infinite Emptiness for the start of time. There his laws were set in stone and could never be changed. All of the laws combined would govern a program. God could hardly wait and it was hard to control his desire at a point so close to the beginning of the mass of solid elements.

Proverbs 8:28, ... He would establish elementary particles into the deep endless void above which would be converted into hard solid elements.

Proverbs 8:29, ... He give his order by faith and his laws were established into the infinite emptiness with a loud roar (Big Bang). His law of measure would produce elements (protoplanetary nebula) which was generated as he spoke his command by faith. His program of laws that could never be changed (laws of physics, chemistry, math, etc.) Produced a massive infinite structural foundation (Boomerang telescope finds) that would lead to the evolution of solid elements.

Proverbs 8:30, ... Everything that he established in a process of time, he was delighted in. It was a time for celebration, everything was continuously evolving as expected. It was hard to control his desire so close to the beginning of what was to come.

Proverbs 8:31, ... It was a time for celebration, because the planets of solid elements would bring forth his delight which was the first born adam.

This is what King Solomon wrote about in the evolution of the universe. His short outline opened my mind to wall to wall quasars producing the first elements. Science says that in the universe, black holes are without number, like the sands of the sea. There are black holes throughout the universe that once were quasars and every galaxy you see was once a massive quasar during this period. They formed from the elementary particles that filled the universe in the beginning of solid matter, which were produced from the infinite structure that filled the universe which was a design of God. This is my understanding (so far) and not from scriptures, but I will keep on searching for scriptures that might make this reality. The structure not only produced the particles, it also contained a program to produce every seed or egg of life within a recipe within the nebula of the particles (Also my understanding and not scripture as far as I know). These particles and their forces and programs produced everything we see around us and things that we can't see. Quantum Mechanic theories indicate that there could have been an infinite structure for the Higgs Field throughout the universe. This field of structure, started from the Biblical understanding of the big bang that King Solomon called a Roar, (Hebrew text), This was throughout the universe and not from one location. In my understanding, it started from a formula established throughout the emptiness of what is now the physical universe. The reaction of all the information and laws of God came in direct contact with total emptiness and it was the largest reaction ever been. It was like a controlled explosion, acting as a generator of elementary particles and seed of all life. It was unlimited energy. It was also extremely hot. The temperature of the universe was around 7 trillion degrees and the elementary particles that filled the universe was in the form of a plasma. The plasma was like a liquid, (like steam from water). After the particles cooled down, they went back to normal particles that existed in limbo, no atoms or molecules existed yet (My thoughts). Some evidence of this is the first-generation quasars did not have any dust in their disks, showing that there were no solid elements yet meaning there were no neutrons, just elementary particles. To my understanding, the first-generation quasars spewed out a hydrogen plasma that later condensed into hydrogen from their jets which were around 7 trillion degrees, enough to fuse Hydrogen and Antihydrogen atoms. A fog of Hydrogen gas was what was seen throughout the universe first by the C.O.B.E. satellite throughout the complete sky. The Spitzer telescope ran out of coolant before they had a chance to study the first-generation quasars and they only seen two of them. All the chemical elements started from an infinite fog of hydrogen that was produced by the first-generation quasar jets (both matter and antimatter). I picture that normal matter shot out from the jets on one side and antimatter from the jets on the other at close to the speed of light in totally opposite directions. The material within the jets were in the form of a plasma of 7 trillion degrees Fahrenheit. The reason for the matter and antimatter was the rotation was different on each side. Notice the front wheel on your bicycle while going forward. One side is a mirror image of the other and they rotate in opposite directions. One side rotates clockwise and the other counterclockwise. Antimatter is a mirror image of matter.

As of today, no one knows what goes on within a quasar. We think that there's a super strong magnetic field, Extremely hot temperatures, and my observation of opposite rotations on each side. To my understanding, the hot temperatures of around 7 trillion degrees Fahrenheit would be hot enough to fuse the particles as they were generated. This brings me to an understanding that one side's jets would produce matter and the jets from the opposite side antimatter. With nothing to slow the matter and antimatter down, they are still moving at close to the speed of light in opposite directions creating two or more universes moving away from each other. No wonder science can't find the antimatter that is supposed to be in the universe. ... it's long gone and has been since the beginning.

A good example is the Hercules Galaxy where its jets spew out for 1.5 million lightyears in opposite directions, then they disappear. But because they disappear doesn't mean that they stopped moving. In my understanding the matter that condensed from the plasma kept traveling at close to the speed of light. Science estimates that the empty space between the galaxies contain about one atom per 3 cubic feet. ... That is today. ... Back then, it would probably not be any atoms at all to slow the jets down. That's zero resistance and the jet would continue without anything to slow it down. The matter within the jets are probably still traveling at the speed of light in opposite directions. No wonder they can't find the antimatter that equals the amount of matter that we have in our universe. This would be close to the parallel universes that science is searching for, a universe of antimatter, a mirror image of our universe. It could also explain the entangled particles that they think might exist. Both came from the same quasar at the same exact time. One particle matter, and the other antimatter.

My Interpretation of John 1:1-5

John 1:1-5, ... 1. ... In the beginning was a computation ( reasoning and reckoning), and the computation was the understanding of God (Holy Ghost), and the computation was the work (reasoning and reckoning) of God
2 ... The same was a commencement and principal of God.
3. ... The whole universe was generated by it's self abundantly through the generation of elementary particles, that generated solid elements.
4. ... Then through his understanding, God saw the harmony of mankind. He also saw the enlightenment of mankind, how they admired one another and stared at each other in admiration. Also, how precious their love was for one another and how well they bonded and provided for each other.
5. ... And God proclaimed and pronounced that the dawn of understanding was brought forth in the first period of time.

This is what I found within the definitions of John 1:1-5 in the Greek text. It tells of how the structure was calculated and computed with reasoning through understanding. Also, what evolved from it including Adam, (Adam, Definition, = A man of low degree, a caveman) the first male and female long before Adam and Eve came along.

The picture storybook tells the whole story as well as I could understand it step by step. There are over 150 illustrations, some are made with the airbrush in 1993 and 1994 at John's Pass in Maderia Beach Florida. I worked there as an airbrush artist after my original job at Tampa Ship shut down. Most of the illustrations that I chose to use in my book, were done with Photoshop after I retired. Keep in mind that they are just illustrations and not meant to represent real true to life pictures. In my way of thinking, true to life would be mostly nebula and nothing solid that was going on inside it would be visible.

Keep in mind that this is not just an overnight thought. This is year after year of meditation and Bible study along with current events in science. So far, everything fits together and that's a wonderful thing. I'm hoping that this will start a movement that will inspire the Hebrew and Greek speaking world to make a better translation of the Bible, in English, to get as close to the Biblical meaning of the Bible as we can get. I can see from my research that there is a better story within the original text that should be brought to light. Maybe if this ever got started, the Holy Spirit would guide the translators so that the English-speaking world would get a lot better understanding of the Bible which would be a wonderful thing.

Now let's move on to Chapter Two and get an idea of what the seed of man is and how it explains the sacrifice of Jesus Christ.
